Company statement

Thanks to a truly patient-centric approach and a strategy focused on two therapeutic areas, immunology and neurology, UCB is enjoying a period of sustainable growth, with no major patent expiries within the coming decade. In the last years, the company has brought several innovative drugs to patients across the world: Cimzia[®] (certolizumab pegol) in various arthritis indications and Crohn's disease, Vimpat[®] (lacosamide) and Briviact[®] (brivaracetam) in epilepsy and Neupro[®] (rotigotine) in Parkinson's disease and restless legs syndrome.
