Introduction & Professional experience

Jan is a tri-sector healthcare executive that has proven results as a senior executive in the three sectors of private, public and government services over the last 30 years. In 2009, Jan founded Health Intelligence Partners as a health care consultancy that blends more than thirty years of business and clinical experience. Health Intelligence Partners has a global focus (engagements in 14 countries with both Health Organizations and National Ministries of Health), working with clients on areas of growth, including short-term and long-term business strategies and solutions. Health Intelligence Partners helps clients to navigate the intersection of strategy and operations within both the healthcare and consumer goods and services environment, in order to identify and articulate value opportunities.

Prior to founding Health Intelligence Partners, Jan served as Executive Vice President, Chief Medical Officer and Innovation Officer for CVS Health/Caremark. During that time, she was a corporate officer and on the executive team with P & L (500-million-dollar business unit), operations and strategic experience. Jan also led Caremark's Medicare Part D development and was the clinical lead for CVS Health's M & A activity. During this time, Jan developed an expertise in both healthcare and retail consumer behavior. Before going to CVS Caremark, Jan had 15 years' experience in healthcare administration within the health plan and academic arenas and led operations for two population health companies.

As a veteran healthcare executive, Jan's leadership has delivered results in a variety of settings. Jan offers her experiences and insights through her consulting agency as well as through her participation on healthcare and consumer product boards.

As the author of the recently released Re-Engaging in Trust: The Missing Ingredient to Fixing Healthcare and 4 other books, the past Editor in Chief of the American Journal of Pharmacy Benefits and on the editorial boards of a number of healthcare journals, Jan is considered a national healthcare thought leader. Jan speaks and writes on a broad range of healthcare and pharmaceutical services issues.

Jan is an assistant professor at Northwestern University School of Medicine and School of Communication in Chicago, Illinois where she teaches the Engaging the Consumer in Health course.

Education

Jan holds both a Doctor of Medicine degree and a Master's degree in Jurisprudence from Loyola University in Chicago, and a Certificate in Healthcare Business Administration from University of South Florida. She also holds a black belt in Six Sigma.
